

FEDERCHIMICA

ASSOBIOTEC

Associazione nazionale per lo sviluppo delle biotecnologie

September 25 – October 1, 2017

The fifth edition of the European Biotech Week (EBW) will take place from September 25 to October 1, 2017. In Italy, the event is coordinated and promoted by Assobiotech, the Italian association for the development of biotechnology which is part of Federchimica, a founding member of EuropaBio (the European bioindustry association).

Over 70 events scheduled throughout Italy for schools, students, researchers, institutions, workmen, families, journalists, enthusiasts, for all citizenship.

The European Biotech Week is a week of initiatives and events to tell biotechnology to a wide and heterogeneous audience and to celebrate the key role that biotech has, and will always have, in improving our quality of life.

MolMed takes part in EBW with the initiative:
